Two of Them Died and the Heartless Mother Is Under Arrest.

PARIS, Tex., March 11. - A shocking double child murder was committed three miles southeast of Roxton, a small town fifteen miles southwest of here. Mrs. Molhe Carruthers, the wife of William Carruthers, a respectable, well-to-do farmer, went up to her room and gave her three children large quantities of morphine. In the morning her husband, who was sleep-ing in another room, heard heavy breathing in the children's apartments, and on going there found two of the children in a heavy stupor, from which he was unable to arouse them. Mrs. Carrothers said that she had given them some chill tonic.

Physicians were summoned, but could do nothing for the two youngest, one 11 and the other 4 years of age, and at 9 o'clock both were dead. The eldest, a girl of 14, recovered and is now out of danger. An investigation was begun, and in a few hours Mrs. Carruthers and Jim Strange were arrested. They were brought here and lodged in jail.

After her arrest Mrs. Carruthers admitted that she had given the children morphine for the purpose of killing them. She said that it was done to get them out of trouble, and that she intended to follow them. It developed, however, that she and her husband were on bad terms, and that Strange was the cause of it. She had left her husband once and gone away with Strange, but Carruthers had followed her and took the children from her This caused her to return home. She had been carrying on a secret correspondence with Strange, and papers and other evidence in the possession of the officers show that Mrs. Carrethers and Strange had planned to destroy the children and then leave the

AN EARTHQUAKE SCARE

Citizens of Mexico Fear Serious Seismic Disturbances.

ANCIENT VOLCANO IN ERUPTION.

While the Shocks Thus Far Felt Have Caused No Damage, There Are Grave Avprehensions of a Ceneral Earthquake Period, with Disastrous Results.

COEGDOBA, Mexico, March 11 .- The peak of Orizaba, the ancient volcano, is in a state of eruption. The signs of disturbance began to munifest themselves on Sunday night of last week, and have increased in force constantly since that time. It is now vomiting poisonous gases, and thick volumes of smoke are emitted from 10) apertures in its great maw. The earth for 100 miles around has shaken periodically with subterranean vibrations. A great alarm exists among the dwellers in the cities of Corodoba, Orizaba, Kalaha and the dezens of small villages scattered within the scope of the strange and interesting phenomenon.

The shocks as yet have not been of a dis astrous nature, and no damage from them has been reported. The rim of the crater glows like fire, and the thick gases rolling down the mountain sides have set affame the grasses and vegetation clothing the sides of the summit, which adds to the density of the smoke and the grandeur of the spectacle.

For the public safety the governor of the state of Vera Cruz will shortly name a commission of scientists to make all the investigation into the eruption possible, and to make recommendations looking to the protection of the inhabitants of the neighboring villages.

The present eruption is in the heart of the best improved coffee district in Mexico, where there are located many Americans who have embarked in the profitable business. The coffee plantations are not as yet thought to be in any danger of damage, nor will they be unless the fall of thick ashes occurs, which is not considered probable. Masses are being said in all the churches of the locality to ward off the impending danger.

Coming soon after the late destructive volcanic activities in many parts of the republic, the eruption of Orizaba has many terrors, not only to the prople of its vicinity, but to all living in the volcanic belt stretching from the active volcano of Co-lima, on the west coast, clear to the Gulf of Mexico on the east. Within this belt are numbered dozens of old craters, either in repose or smoking constantly. It is natural to suppose that should its eruptions continue the other voicanoes will be affected and a general earthquake period set in. The consequences of such a catas trophe are hard to foretell, but could hardly be anything less than very disastrous to Pueblo, City of Mexico and the hundreds of other towns in the heart of Mexico.

THE ARMENIAN ATROCITIES.

The Worst Details Published Corroborated Before the Commission.

LONDON, March 11.-A dispatch from Moosh says that a deputation of survivors of the Sassoun massacres appeared before the Turkish commission and narrated the whole story of the butchery. They pre sented also a written statement. One of the members of the deputation was a priest named Petross, belonging to the village of Ghellyeegoozan, where the pit incident occurred. The statement fully corroborates the worst details already pub lished. The document and the evidence made a powerful impression on the com

Other dispatches, dated March 9 and 10 declare that 200 eye witnesses who have been examined all deny that the Armeni ans provoked the Sassoun massacres, and exonerates the Kurds from the brutality These witnesses give disgusting details o Turkish cruelties. The Hoisting Machinery Destroyed Before It Was Possible to Give Warning to the Imperitted Miners, and There Is Little Hope of Their Rescue, WHITE OAK, N. M., March 11 .- At 3 o'clock ye-terday fire broke out in the change room of the hoist house of the Old Abe mine, and in a few minutes the structure, a large and well built one, was a mass of flames. It was completely destroyed, together with the wood and smith shops. The mill sixty feet away, escaped without damage. The woodwork of the shaft was burned out and the holsting machinery destroyed.

The damage runs high up into the thousands, but the most distressing feature is that some men are imprisoned in the dark depths whose fate is unknown. There is little ground for hope that they have escaped suffocation. It will not be possible to enter the mine to search for them until some time this afternoon or tomorrow. Rescuing parties have been unable as vet to get down further than the third level by the air shaft The smoke and gas from the charred wood from the hoisting shaft has penetrated the upper level, and it is impossible to pass them. The entombed men are: Charles Sherrick, F. J. Williams, Frank Wilson, John Davis, G. Baxter, Charles White, Jerry Conover and W. B. Mitchell.

Wilson, Davis and Baxter are married. White is a new man and was on his first shift. Williams and Sherrick are old in mining experiences, and have faced like dangers before. They are cool headed, and if any place of safety was to be found they found is. The fire broke out while G. E. Wilkinson was going down in the bucket to work. He had reached the minth level when the hoist was abandoned and was shot down 200 feet to the thirteenth level, where the bucket struck, tipped and threw bim into the drift. He was stunned, but recovered, and climbed back to the second level and escaped by the air shaft. Coke Keith, Mike Gallagher and Anton Howgate also escaped. through the air shaft. This is the only serious accident here since the burning of the South Homestake shaft several years ago, when two men were smothered.

A Novelty Which Almost Made the Pecple W.ld One Day Last Month.

When the mantle of snow was spread over the city that Friday morning in February, the prople did not know just how to take it at it st. Then they turned in to have fun. All day the city was practically in the hands of merrymakers. The people wert wild over the snow. It was worse than three years Then, on the occasion of a very slight fall of snow, some merchants got outside their stores and began snowballing each other, and a policeman interfered with the sport. They turned on him and made it so hot for him that he was glad to retreat, at first slowly, but afterward at double outck, and le finally broke into a run and was cheef to the barracks, a distance of about 11, miles, by a howling mob of a thousand men, women unicolldren

The solom disidien were dismissed for the day after soll call in the norming, so they joined the throng on the streets Stard and somer business men, bankers, lawyers and clergymen went along the streets with rightly packed balls of snow in their hands ready to pelt acquaintances, or, in fact, anybody that made a good target Bang! and the salk hat worn by a banker or lawyer would leave the head of wearer and land far out in the street. As the owner attempted to capture it a volley of snowballs would come from another direc tion. The electric cars were a mark for a large portion of the merrymakers, and conductors and motormen were treated as targets put up expressly for the snowball sharpshooters. The conductors hid themselves inside the cars most of the time Along in the afternoon, when the tun had become more furious and the snow was so soft that snowballs could be packed like solid ice, the motormen, after leaving one street crossing, would go in-ide the car and stay there until the next crossing was reached, thus escaping the bombardment directed at the cars were not far bound the men in the sport The height of the excitement was reached late in the afternoon, when an improvised sleigh turned from one of the side streets into Bull street. It was followed by about 50 men and boys, but once on this principal thoroughfare the crowd increased tentola and the noise correspondingly. The sleigh went up the street and down again. Every man, woman and child wanted a sleigh ride The trail conveyance was swarmed with passengers all the time, and the horse was well migh exhausted by drawing the load and being pummeled with snowballs. The breaking of windows became a favorite pastime On many street cars not a whole pane of glass would be found when they returned to the carhouse, so the order was given to haul off the closed cars, and after that only open cars were run, and the conductors and motormen alone were left as targets. No passengers ventured to ride in the open cars. At the Screvan House several large plate glass windows were broken, and in other parts of the city damage of a similar nature was reported Requests were sent to police headquarters that the snowballing be stopped, but no attention was paid to them, the police remembering the experience of three years ago

The women, both young and old,

There were a few serious accidents One man was struck in the eye with a snowball in which was a small stone The eyeball was injured, and loss of sight of one eye may follow -Savannah

REDUCED NOBILITY.

The Count Plunged, Lost, Was Ruined, and His Daughter Became & Thief.

The case of a runod noble family was made public last week, says a Paris correspondent Count Stozen hazarded the whole of his fortune in big land building speculations in Rome a few years ago and for two or three short weeks was seemingly an assured winner of millions. But a crash came while his operations were still open, and he went under, with scores of families as noble, as ancient and as reckless

The count's young daughter was engaged to be maniful at the time, but her lover proved as fickle as fortune, and the ruined family retired to Bologna. The young countess, in order to support her parents, took a place as chambermand and recently, under stress of poverty, stole some of her mistress' jewelry, and being tried and convicted was mercifully sentenced to only 12 days' imprisonment, the judge admitting as externating circumstances the sad change in hir family's fortunes The publicity thus given to the case may possibly prove the salvation of the family The young countess is now 28 years of ago

Proposed Legislation For Sleeping Cars. In New York, for example, a uniform rate of 80 cents for a berth, without regard to distance, is called for, in Pennsylvania the rate demanded is $1 for the first 100 miles and 50 cents for each additional 100 miles. The legislators of Illinois want a rate of $1 for 24 hours or less, the Hoosiers are near to passing a bill fixing a rate of 75 cents for the first 100 miles and 50 cents for each additional ten mues; in Kansas the purpose is to fix sleeping car rates at nothing higher than $1.50 per night and as low as 25 cents per day. A bill is almost certain to pies in Arkansas limiting the rate to half a cont a mile, and the legislaters of Texas are minded to fix the rate at $1 a night, etc -Now Orleans Times Democrat.

WIGGLESWORTH'S EXPERIMENT.

He Joins In a Snowball Fight and Learns Somothing. I declare " said Mr Wigglesworth, who was looking out of the front window, if the t doesn't make mu feel like a boy ngam!'

In the vacant lot across the street the boys of the reashborhood, his own among the number had cast up the walls of a snow fort, and now a fine mimic battle was riging. Mr Wigglesworth noted the life and action, and his blood moved

"Legarge," he excluded, with a shuffle of his tet of I haven town minds to go out and give those boys a try myself" 'Don't you ramk you might take cold?' the of Mrs. Wigglesworth

Bi h h h" he growled, instantly hoistig his voice to a high key "You're alanys wanting me to muffle up and totter and drop into the tomb Think you re going to get my life insurance, don't ye' What s my mittens" And the next in tailt Mr Wigglesworth was sliding down the front stoop and plowing across the yard on his back, having slipped in his haste as he came through the door. The boys saw him and staid the battle for a moment

"Who's decove in de red mittens" cried ne of them It's pa,' shouted little Willie Wiggles worth as the old man struggled to his feet 'Hooray, pa-look at our fort'' Mr Wigglesworth picked his enthusi asm out of the snow and said 'Boys I remember when me and the Dodley twins had forts all one winter, and I'm going to show you lads how us old fellows used to run a fight '

'Whoo pe'' yelled the boys.
"That's it' cried Mr Wigglesworth, enthusia-in mounting 'I'll stand the whole crowd of ye but into the fore there and lookout for me, for down comes the walls at the first onslaught " A boy with two teeth messing instant ly lodged a nowball against Mr Wiggles worth's prominent Adam's apple. "Who did that" he shricked as the fractured snowball slid down inside his "Don't ye see I wasn t Nobody volunteering an answer Mr

Wigglesworth smallowed his passion and hastily rolled up some balls of snow went through these preparations "are too slow. You stand off and discharge projectiles at each other, but what does that amount to' What I propose to do as to carry your works () assault y'under-tand same s I used to do with the Dodley twins I give ye fair warning you see, because Im a man and don't want to hurt ye Once I get inside your fort you must scat ter else, of course, I il have to fire you out. Now look out for the old man's coming, and death rides on the gale! The poetry of battle mo nted in Mr Wiggle-worth similar i tio i as he shouted these warning words and then he charged forward. It never was clearly explained to him what next took place. Mrs. Wig glesworth who was looking on from the window said that for an instant, the san was obscured by 2 000 000 snowbills that issued from the fort, every one of which she thinks struck Mr Wigglesworth on the head

That was subsequently understood to be Mr. Wigglesworth's opinion also

Half way up to the fort her deposition continues Mr Wiggle-worth encountered quicks ands in the form of yielding snow into which he sank so deeply that his line of attack wavered. This gave opportunity for the be-neged to discharge an other volley, wherein was displayed the alboy with two front teeth missing. It was a snowball with a marble heart, the marlife having been frozen into it overnight and it flattened Mr. Wigglesworth's no-c so closely to his face that his own family never could have recognized him A man chopping wood over behind Dedge's mountain put a piece in the local paper stating that he distinctly heard Mr Wigglesworth's yell It was a clear, frosty day, when sound travels a giff it distance 'Who fired that rock?'' screamed Mr Wigglesworth. He was answered by a cheer and another volley. Little Willie Wigglesworth was overheard by a contrade who stood next in line a boy with frields but said to be quite truthful, to hiss be tween his smoke begrinned lips that hold give 2 cents to pluz one into the old man s car, and the boy afterward stated that the feat was aclicied and claimed the 2 cents The historian has to confess that the schicle of narrative is inadequate to the rapid action of the scene which Mrs. Wig glesworth with ibited breath now wit nessed from the window. Her husband, she states, appeared to have abundoned his intention of showing how buttles were won in the days of the Dodley twins, and she judged by the frenzied manner in which he plucked his legiout of the cling ing snow and lished the atmosphere with his arms and uttered remarks that it were not fit for women to hear, though she his tened as carefully as she could, and even tried to get the window open, but it was frozen down that his purpose was to catch as many boys as he could in his two hands at onco and pull their legs off which seem ed to her a horrible thing to do, but lew

But just as he got close under the walls and was iculing for a boy Mr Wiggles worth suddenly disappeared from the gaze of his horrified wife. The boys, with a knowledge of warfare such as the Dedley twins never in their most twinly moments dreamed of, had mined the snowdrifts before the wills and when Mr Wiggles worth's he my weight was projected upon the superimpending crust he went through without waiting a moment to take breath At the bottom of the excavated space the juvenile engincers had arranged a small pond of water in which to freeze snow balls, and which was found to be large enough to take in all of Mr. Wigglesworth at once The boys then tipped the walls of the fort over on him, and with three cheers for the Dodley twins trooped gayly of us realize, upless we have been there, and none of us have if we could scenre a substitute, what a terrible thing war is away Why Elleryl" sympathized Mrs Wig glesworth as she held the door open while her husband dragged slowly up the steps, 'don't you -

"You get into the house" yelled Mr Wigglesworth and don't you let me have any more yap out of your head about be ing young again 'F I'd gone to the office, as I intended instead of trying to sprawl around here amusing you, I'd been earn ing money now to support your extrava gances instead of looking like a blame fool for your old maid neighbors to point their crooked fingers at Prance me out some dry clothes, d ye hear, and don't be stand ing around there all day with your hands in your mouth like a jibbering idiot!" And Mrs. Wigglesworth confessed to the caller afterward that she couldn't for the life of her remember why she should have in the evening-when a woman has cleaned house all day with Pearline, instead of the old-fashioned way. It's so much easier. There isn't a thing anywhere about the house (that you'd W take water to) but Pearline can save you time and work on it. Saves that wearing rubbing on your paint and wood work, too. And what a difference to every one in the house when the cleaning is done quickly and easily and without any fuming and fretting! You men ought to get together and insist on Pearline.

Peddlers and some unscrupulous grocers will tell you, "this is as good as" or "the same as Pearline." IT'S FALSE—Pearline is never peddled; if your grocer sends you an imitation, be honest—send it back.

MONDAY, MARCH 11, 1895.

The Herald has a very good cartoon, "The end of the eclipse," in tc-day's issue. Platt's shadow has passed from off Morton's full moon face, which is beaming with renewed brightness. Attached to Platt's gloomy countenance, by the usual atring, is the little dog star Lexow, while Lauterbach as Mars, the god of war, is shining brightly in the dis tance.

If wife beaters are not to be sent to the whipping post, New York has no use for Gerry's "cat o' nine tails" law. Public opinion approves or the scourge from the backs of wife beaters who, under present laws, practically escape punishment, but for the crimes for which whipping is to be made the punishment adequate penalties are now provided and enforced, and unless the lash reaches the meatest of criminals there is no reason for the Empire State taking a step backward and restoring a punishment abandoned and abolished almost a century ago as degrading and inhuman.

England now proposes to join the continental countries of Europe in a crusade against American meat, and a Royal Commission is to investigate the "alleged shipment of diseased meat to England from Chicago." France and Germany have excluded American pork because they profess to fear trichiræ. They have made the importation of dressed beef practicably impossible by arbitrary and Relieved of His Roll by a Goshen Pickirksome regulations, and Belgium has lately joined them in excluding American cattle on the hoof because of alleged fears of tuberculosis. To such a length has the proscription of American food products been carried in Europe that only a few days ago the Mayor of a French city issued a proclamation warning the public egalust using American evaporated apples, since they were dried on zinc shelves instead of boards and con tained traces of zinc. This governmental interference with trade in and consumption of American meats and food products is not prompted by .. belief that they are injurious to the public health, but is resorted to as an easy expedient for allaying the discontent of the agricultural classes. The extending of this proscriptive policy at this time is most unfortunate. This country has just adopted a more liberal commercial policy, and back of the lowering of tariff rates was the belief that the interests of all would be promoted by a more unrestricted exchange of products with the countries of the world, but just as we are proffering the olive branch of commercial freedom, the ports of Europe are closed against some of our leading articles of export If this policy is continued by European countries American sentiment would sustain retaliatory action that would shut out every article that the countries which discriminate against the United States send to this coun-

DANGER IN POST MORTLMS.

Two Ulster County Physicians Suffering from Blood Poisoning, Resulting from Apparently Triffing Causes,

Dr. Kemble, of Kingston, and Dr. VanGaasbeck, of Shokan, Ulster county, were called, last week, to perform an operation upon Mrs. Avery, who was suffering from an enlarged tongue, but before they could begin work the woman died. They then made an examination and while doing so, Dr. Kemble scratched his finger on the teeth of the dead woman and Dr. VanGaasbeck punctured his finger with a needle. Very shortly afterwards the fingers of both began to swell and it was thought, Tuesday, that amputation would be necessary, but later reports are more favorable.

A DWELLING HOUSE BURNED.

The Residence of Frank Giveans, on gennett Street, Destroyed by Fire-Narrow Escape of Bis Son.

About 3:20 o'clock Sunday morning, Mr. Frank Giveans, of No. 18 Bennett street was aroused from his sleep by the smell of smoke. He soon discovered that the interior of his home was a mass of flames. He aroused his wife and told her to get out of the house while he went to awaken his young son, who was asleep in an upper apartmer t. Communication was cut off by the burning stair case, and Mr. Giveans was compelled to climb a post of the veranda to the window of his son's bedroom. The boy was awakened and escaped by the window.

A young lad started to send in an alarm from box 46. at the corner of Academy avenue and Genung street. out could not operate the box, so he ran to box 42 at the corner of Academy and Houston avenues.

When the firemen arrived at that box there was no one to tell them where the fire was, and after groping around blindly in the dark they anally located the fire by the smoke. The flames had gained considers-ble headway by this time, and the house and its contents were almost completely destroyed before the fire was extinguished. The building was insured for $1,200

een Under Very Favorable Conditions -A Beautiful Peature.

The eclipse of the moon, last night was seen under peculiarly favorable conditions, the sky being practically free from clouds until after the total obscuration. The most notable feature of the eclipse was the beautiful mottled color of the moon during totality, the fints varying from light yellow to a nich copper color. This was due to the partial illumination of the moon's disc by refracted

Tue eclipse did not have the interest for astronomers that it would have had if the moon had been in a portion of the heavens thickly strewn with stars, for by observing the instants of their appearance and disappearance as the darkened moon passes over them, data of great value in astronomical calculations are obtained.

The eclipse was, however, of unusual general interest and the beautiful spectacle was watched by thousands of people.

The annual shaking up of the police department is at hand and all the present incumbents are on pins and needles, wondering which way the cat will jump for them. Ex-policemen are also laying pipe lines for reappointment. It is said that the reason Mr. Robert Wengatz sold his Cottage Hotel was because he has received assurances of his appointment as Captain.

Ex-Captain Gould is also in the race for reappointment as head of the force, but we understand would be eatisfied with the position of patrolman.

ECGS AT PANIC PRICES-

Never Before so Low in March—California Hens Breed Consternation.

The bottom was fairly knocked out of the New York egg market, Saturday, the price at wholesale dropping to 151/2 cents a dcz+n. The cause for this unprecedented tumble of 141/4 cents a dezen in a week's time, and for this lowest March record ever made, was the phenomenal receipte, 2,854,000 eggs arriving that day.

The receipts for the week were 7. 394,700 eggs, as against 4 204,400 the previous week, when the price was 30 conts. This great number was considerably contributed to by Virginia and Tennessee, but what really broke the market in this wide open fashion, was the rece pt. during the week, of a number of car loads from California, the first appearance of the fruit of the hen of the Pacific Slope in the New York market.

These California eggs arrived in periot condition, and so came in competition with the product of near-by States. The very novelty of the experience was sufficient to send the market into panic.

A SUGGESTION AS TO FIRE ALARMS Persons Ringing in an Alarm Should Remain at the Box Till Fireman Ar-

Yesterday morning's fire could have been extinguished with but comparatively slight damage had the firemen known its exact location in time. Persons who send in an alarm should remain at the box until the arrival of the firemen and inform them of the location of the fire. The companies had about decided to return to their truck houses, yesterday morning, but the odor of smoke was so strong that a search was instituted and the fire finally located.

A CABLE TO BAWAII.

IT WILL BE THE FIRST, STEP TOWARD SPANNING THE PACIFIC.

The Expense Estimated at About $3,000. 000-Hundreds of Ceem Cables Throughout the World and Ameteen Across the

There are 19 transatlantic cables, but the broad bosom of the Pacific is as yet unspanned. The recent exciting events in Hawasi, however, have sumulated interest in the long talked of project of a cable from San Francisco or Vancouver to Hawaii, and if one of these projcets is carried out it will doubtless bo but a short time before the line will be extended to Japan or to New Zealand.

The never public of Hawam is natarally very attrious to be in closer connection with the world, and Great Britain and the United States are both considering the advisulably or otherwise of expending the meessary $2,000,000 and connecting liawan with the continent of North America. Great Britain has already asked the republic or Hawari for permassion to land its proposed cable from Vancouver on one of the Hawaman islands, and the republic has petitioned the United States government for leave to grant the request. Hawaii is not under the wing of the United States, but years ago Uncle Sam was given the exclusive right to build a cable to the islands, and the consent of congress must be obtained before the present Hawaiian government may permit Great Britain to land her proposed cable.

The Hawaiian republic, it is said, prefers to have the proposed cable built by the United States, but will naturally hail with joy any cable that comes its way. The British project includes a cable crossing the entire Pacific, a distance of 7,340 miles from Vancouver to Hawaii, and from Hawaii to Auckland, connecting at Auckland with the cable that runs to Australia, or from Hawaii direct to Australia.

Not long ago the United States senate tacked to the diplomatic and consular appropriation bill an item of $500,000 for preliminary work on a cable to Hawail, but this item was rejected by the house of representatives, and for the present at least the cable is deferred. Ocean cable laying costs about $1,200 a mile, and the estimated cost of a cable 2,107 miles long, from San Francisco to Honolulu, is $3,000,000.

When Cyrus W. Field immortalized himself on July 27, 1866, by completing the first successful oceanic cable at enormous expense, the wondering world little thought that in 28 years there would be 19 cables laid across the Atlantic. Four of them were failures, and some of the others are little used, the companies owning them having laid duplicate lines with more satisfactory results. Of the 15 now in use the Anglo-American Telegraph company operates five-four from Valentia, Ireland, to Heart's Content, Newfoundland, and another from Minou, near Brest, France, to the island of St. Pierre, south of Newfoundland. The Commercial Cable company has three transatlantic cables two from Waterville, Ireland, to Canso, Nova Scotia, and one from Ballinskelligs bay, Ireland, to Canso. The direct United States Cable company operates another from Ballinskelhgs Lay to Halifax; the French Telegraph company another from Brest to St. Pierre; the Western Union Telegraph company two-a northern and a southern—from Sennen cove, near Penzanca, England, to Canso; the Brazilian Submarine Telegraph company also has two between Caravellos, near Lisbon, Portugal, to Pernambuco, Brazil, via Madeir and Cape Verdeislands, while still another transatlantic cable stretches from Senegal, on the west coast of Africa, to Pernambuco. England owns and operates at home 102 separate official cables, aggregating 883 miles in length. In her international system she operates 14 more, of which nine belong to her exclusively, measuring 767 miles, and in her Indian administration she has 93 more, measuring together 1,982, making in all 3,582 miles of official ocean cable owned exclusively by her, not counting the five in which she is a part owner. In Canada she has 22 more official cables; in Queensland she has 13; in South Australia, 5; in New Zealand, 3; in Tasmania, 1; and in Victoria, 1 Norway has 255 short length official cables; Denmark, 50; Greece, 47; Germany, 45; Italy, 38; Austria, 31; Japan, 81; Holland, 20; Turkey, 10; Sweden, 10; Spain, 9; Russia, 8; Belgium, 2, and Cochin China, 2. France possesses no less than 52 separate official ocean cables. The young republic of Brazil has 22, and the Argentine Republic has 3.

Despite this great showing the cable system of the world is very defective so long as the mighty Pacific remains unspanned. When San Francisco business men desire to talk with Auckland at $2.86 per word, the shortest natural route between the two points is across the Pacific. As there is no cable the message, instead of going west, goes east, crossing North America, the Atlantic ocean, Enrope, Asia and Oceanica to Australia, and from Australia continues on to its destination in New Zealand, a distance of over 20,000 miles, although San Francisco and Auckland are only about 5,000 miles apart.

Banker Morgan Is & Glant Among the Magnates of Wall Street.

Mr. John Pierpont Morgan, the New York banker who has been prominently before the public as the principal agent in negotiating the recent government bond issue, has long been recognized as one of the ablest 'nanciers in the country. For many years he was at the head of the famous firm of Drexel,

J PIERPONT MORGAN. Morgan & Co., which has recently been changed to J. P. Morgan & Co. He has been con-pirnously successful as a reorganizer of radroads, and as such the Vanderbilt powers bow to him. It is said that he was the only man in Wall street whom the late Jay Gould feared, and he proved his metal in many contests with the "wizard." Mr. Morgan is a son of Junius Speneer Morgan, a famous banker in his day, who was associated with George Peabody, the philanthropist, whose centenary was celebrated recently. His mother was a daughter of John Pierpout, the poet. He was born in Hartford April 17, 1837, and completed his school cducation at Gottingen, Germany. Then his real education began in the banking and brokerage fam of Dabney, Morgan & Co., of which he was the junior member. He improved his opportunities to such good effect that he now stands the foremost financier of New York city and possesses a fortune that is variously estimated from $40,000,000 to $60,000,-

Mr. Morgan is not exactly a popular man. He is very attentive to business and seldom appears in public or in society. He has a town house in Madison avenue, New York, and a fine country seat on the west bank of the Hudson below West Point. He has been twice married, and his second wife is a niece of Benjamin F. Tracy, President Harrison's secretary of the navy. He has three daughters and one son, J. Pierpont, Jr., who has already made a name for himself in Wall street.

Mr. Morgan's personality is thus described by Gath, the well known correspondent: "He is pretty big, decidedly erce, of high, nervous action, with a large port wine nose, and a pair of dark eyes, and a mixture of the eagle and the vulture. He is attractive the moment he wants to be, and many people wish he wanted to. * * * You have known perhaps the feeble and smiling Drexels and wondered where their fiscal genius was secreted, but when you see this, their partner, you wender where to secrete yourself."

Mr. Morgan has given many large sums to charity. One of his most notable benefactions was a contribution in 1892 of $500,000 for the extension of the New York trade and technical schools.

for Infants and Children.

OTHERS, Do You Know that Paregoric, Baterum's Drops, Godfrey's Cordial, many so-called Soothing Syrups, and most remedies for children are composed of opium or morphise?

Do You Know that opium and morphine are stupefying narcotic poisons?

Do You Know that in most countries druggists are not permitted to sell narcotics without labeling them poisons?

Do You Know that you should not permit any medicine to be given your child unless you or your physician know of what it is composed?

Do You Know that Castoria is a purely vegetable preparation, and that a list of is ingredients is published with every bottle?

Do You Know that Castona is the prescription of the famous Dr Samuel Pitcher That it has been in use for nearly thirty years, and that more Castoria is now sold than of all other remedies for children combined?

Do You Know that the Patent Office Department of the United States, and of other countries, have issued exclusive right to Dr. Pitcher and his assigns to use the word "Castoria" and its formula, and that to imitate them is a state puson offense?

Do You Know that one of the reasons for granting this government protection was cecause Castoria had been proven to be absolutely harmless?

Do You Know that 35 average doses of Castoria are furnished for 35 sents, or one cent a dose?

Do You Know that when possessed of this perfect preparation, your children may he kept well, and that you may have unbroken rest?

Well, these things are worth knowing. They are facts.

CANVASSING THE VOTE SLAST MEETING OF THE COMMON

COUNCIL The New Street Opening Expense of Proceedings Thus Far - Compliments Sits as a Soard of Canvassers-A Pro-

An adjourned meeting of the Common Council was held at 8:30 c'clock, this morning, all the members being present except Mr. Baldwin.

Mr. Greene, of the Law Committee, made a minority report on the matter of the opening of the new street. He said the following were among the bills in the City Attorney's of the court, must be paid before the proceedings in the matter of opening up a new street from East Main street to Sprague avenue, and said he would like the Council to take action upon the report.

Salary and expenses of Commissioners..... $132 34 Hattie A. Startup, stenog.... Chas. H. Smith, engineer..... J. L. Wiggins, attorney, peti-D. F. Seward, searching records.... Vanamee, Watts & Vail, at-

Stensbury..... 田_W. Wiggins, attorney, Buther B. Marsh, attorney, Huyler..... 100 00

Total......$882 59 A PUBLIC NECESSITY.

Mr. Ludington said: "Here is an expense of over $800 that must be paid if the street does not go through. To-day that street is needed more than ever before. To avoid the East Main street crossing, persons must drive around by Academy and Benton avenues, through which the electric car track runs. The streets are Patrow and there are numerous short Surps that render them dangerous.

"The new street is almost a necessity. Besides it opens up property that will be salable and valuable. Until the new street is opened it will be only farm land. The property to be assessed will be benefitted more than the assessments, even that of Mayor Stansbury, who opposes it more than anybody else. The land Is right in the heart of the city and should be opened up, especially when Estreet is so badly needed in that meighborhood."

Mr. Ludington moved that the sity attorney request the court to ailow the city to go on with the open-Ing of the new street. Mr Beed moved as an amendment that the bills reported by Mr. Greene be ordered paid. Mr. Mance as an amendment moved that the matter be deferred the Hon. Moses D. Stivers. until the next regular meeting.

Mr. Mance's amendment was carried, Mesers. Bowler, Funnell, Mance voting are and Messis Greens, Ludington and Sinsabaugh

On motion of Mr. Greene his report was Staced on file.

COMPLIMENTS TO BETIRING MEMBERS "Mr. Mance offered the following resolutions which were adopted with a unanimous rising vote:

Resolved, That at this, the last session of this Board of Common Council, we express to our retiring breth en our sincere regret that our official household is to be broken up by the departure of three of its most efficient members, and in consideration of this, be it

Resolved. That we convey to them in this manner tribute to their efforts in behalf of those whom we represent. Their untiring zeal and devotion to the responsibilities vested In them for the past two years have won for them not only the regard and affection of their fellow members of the Board, but the lasting respect of the general public. And be it

Resolved. That in the retirement of these gentlemen, through their own wishes, the citizens of the city of Middletown loss three of the most valuable men who have ever enjoyed membership in its Common Council,

Resolved, That in extending wel-come to their successors we charge them to ever remember the good records made by their predecessors, and that by a continuation of close attention to the city's interests hasten the approach of a "Greater Middletown."

A PROTEST AGAINST CANVASSING RETURNS Council then adjourned and immediately re-convened as a Board of canvassers.

Mr. Thomas M. Kane, as Chairman of the Democratic City Committee. entered a protest against counting and declaring the result of the vote or the educational ticket, for thereagon that the law does not provide for such a ballot or for a separate box to

He also protested against the canwassing of the entire city vote, on the ground that the stubs of ballots were marked otherwise than provid-- ≾d by law.

MB. KANE'S PROTEST UNHEEDED.

The President read the amendment to the city charter providing for a separate educational ticket which seemed to satisfy the Council and its tegal advisor upon this point. No attention whatever was paid to the protest on account of marked ballots. A little thing like that is app reptly of no account with this Re-: .publican body.

DECLARING THE RESULT.

The Board then proceeded with the CARRIAGES and on motion of Mr. Mance | Rogers' Pepsin Essence.

the successful candidates were declared elected,

A LITTLE BY-PLAY There was some by play during the reading of the returns in which packages of stubs and ballots left over from the election served as misto Retiring Members-The Council siles with which members were pelted until some one suggested that rest against the Cauvass-Adjourned Mr. Kane had a mortgage upon the ballots, when they were carefully laid aside.

Aldermen Greene and Ludingtor, the setiring members, were the principal ballot tossers. It was evident they had no tears to shed because of the expiration of their terms of office. They have served the people well and retire with the consciousnees of having done their duty to the public and enjoying the confihands which, according to the order derce of their constituents and the respect of their official associates during the past two years.

THANKS TO THE REPORTERS. On motion of Mr. Manca a vote of thanks was tendered to the representatives of the city papers for the fairness and completeness of the reports of the proceedings during the past

Mr. Reed moved that Council, having performed all its duties, be dissalved, and President Dorrance declared Council adjourned, sine die.

The new Council will meet for organization at 8 o'clock, to-morrow evening.

MUST SCHOOL CHILDREN BE VAC CINATED?

Newburgh's Anti-Vaccination League Again Appeals to the Courts.

An application for a mandamus, made by the Newburgh Anti-Vaccination Society to require the Board of Education of that city to show cause why the children of Wm. H. Van Tassell should not be admitted to the public schools, came up before Judge Barnard, at special term in Poughkeepsie, Saturday. Distric Attorney Hirschberg appeared for the Board of Education and W. F. O'Neill, Esq, of this city, for the Auti-Vaccination Society. O'Neill was given two weeks in which to submit a brief.

Mr. Van Tassell refused to allow his children to be vaccirated. The Board of Education refused to admit the children to the schools and the Anti-Vaccination Scalety decided to make this a test case.

Row Artificial Milk is Made,

The state food commissioners of Ohio have discovered the secret of the formula for making artificial milk which has been used quite extensively in that state. It is as follows: Saleratus, glycerine, saltpeter, common salt, sodium phosphate and sugar, which, added to a gallon of milk and a gallon of water, makes two gallons of the artificial stuff,

Card of Thanks,

I desire to publicly thank many friends, and also the A. O. H. Society, for the kindness shown to myself and immediate relatives during the hour of our sad bereavment-the sad and sudden death of my brother MICHAEL J. DORAN.

But their necescary work at home, sewing, mending, etc., must be done after that time. and "theirwork is never done." All women work: some for ambition, some for economy in the household, but the great mass of women work for their daily bread. All are subject to the same physical laws; all suffer alike from the same physical disturbances, and the nature of their duties often quickly drifts them into the horrors of all kinds of female complaints, ovarian troubles, inflammation, ulceration, falling and dis-placement of the womb, leucorrhea, and perhaps irregular or suppressed "monthly periods." causing severe backache, loss of appetite, nervousness, irri-tability and weakness.
